

S2V

Two characteristics important for hunters on the move...mobility and stealth. Using top-of-the-line technology to increase the user's range and fabric technology that repels water and maximizes breathability, ROCKY® S2V was developed for the most active hunter. S2V soft shell fabric is highly water-resistant and the 4-way stretch fabric allows for full range, unrestricted movement. The form fitting forearms will not catch on bow strings and self-expanding cuffs comfortably allow for release aids without slack. Every pocket is ergonomically designed for easy access. Full zip front, zippered arm and chest pockets allow for easy access no matter what situation you find yourself in. Overlapping front slash pockets are held closed by strong magnets allowing you to access contents in complete silence. Removable bow rest strap holds bottom cam takes the weight off your arm and wrist and then conveniently tucks away when not being used. Zippered cargo pockets are angled to allow for easy access to gear, and the hidden ankle closure adjustments give a customized fit without getting in the way.

Forget the dryer, laundry detergents, and sprays. SiQ Atomic technology fuses scent control and moisture management, with styling borrowed from extreme sports apparel, to kill bacteria that causes human odor without the need to regenerate. Equal parts comfort and concealment, the ROCKY® ScentIQ Atomic _ zip shirts and cargo pants feature SilentHunter micro suede fabric that accelerates sweat away from the body and the Anti-Friction construction eliminates fabric sounds allowing silent movement in the woods. The zip shirt includes a left sleeve pocket with zipper designed for easy to reach gear storage. The cargo pant incorporates a comfort stretch waistband, knee and seat reinforcements, ergonomically shaped leggings, and hidden ankle closure adjustments to create a custom fit with added durability and unbeatable comfort and stealth. Where to put those other small essentials? Two front swing and hip pockets, and two side cargo pockets combine with accent colors to give a sharp look without compromising camo effectiveness.

S2V: Silence + Stealth = Victory, because sometimes you have to go to the game.
